

A LETTER FROM PRETORIA.

In a letter to his father here, dated Nov. 12th, and written from Pretoria, Trooper Alex. McCauley, C. M. R., states: Last Wednesday we arrived from the station and are camped two miles north of town. Half of our battalion are at Belfast yet, but are expected down any time for it is believed we will sail for Canada by December 1st. On Nov. 3rd, Lieut. Chalmers was killed in an engagement near Belfast and Major Saunders and Privates Northway and Pratt wounded and twelve horses wounded; most of the horses had to be shot. Our men started to march the night before at six p. m. kept going all night and engaged with the Boers at 1 a. m. Whether the rest of the column under Smith-Dorrien failed to make connection or not is a question, but the Boers were too strong for the number of men opposed to them. During the firing Sergt. Tryon's horse was shot and Major Saunders was killed. The Boers were not far from the station. While returning the Boers' horses were shot and both were left on foot. Then Major Saunders was wounded (seriously) and Lieut. Chalmers, while trying to rescue him, was shot, one bullet through the head and one through the abdomen. Chalmers was our best and most popular lieutenant. Whenever any difficult work had to be done he was the officer sent. We would rather have lost any other but him.

We hope to leave here before another day, and as I said they are trying to arrange for us to sail before the 25th. I saw Griesbach at the hospital at Middleburg and he thinks he will be able to sail with us. Not so many Canadians are staying in South Africa. Hildon-Grey thought that a large number would join the police force but as the pay is only five shillings a day very few will stay. Lindsay and some others have only engaged on the military police until we start for Cape Town when they will join us. A lot of infantry have been mounted lately and most of them are just learning to ride. Quite often a horse gallops through our camp without its rider and sometimes with him. When riding to camp a couple of days ago we saw a squad of Kaffirs (natives) drilling. Quite a number of them are in police in Pretoria. Russell, D'Easum, Jamieson and I were in town last Saturday. The first place we went to was a restaurant and it was a pleasure to sit down on a chair to a good meal again.

There must be 30,000 soldiers in and around Pretoria.

We don't expect to go home by England, for which I am sorry.

WITH THE STRATHCONAS.

Trooper W. A. Lowry, of Strathcona Horse, writing from Frederickicksburg on Nov. 28th, says: "I have been some in a few minutes ago with part of the regiment bringing in a couple of hundred or so of cattle, horses, mules, etc., which we raised this morning. We got up at 12 a. m. and proceeded to surround a little group of men, a few miles back where 40 or 50 Boers were in the habit of putting up every night. We encircled the town, but not before a few got away. However, we captured a number of prisoners. We burnt a few houses, but the Boers had been sleeping and which belonged to rebels who are still out sniping. We looted their pigs, chickens and ducks and drove off the cattle. I don't care for this kind of work, nor do any of the boys. The work makes an awful fuss. But it has to be done. As long as the rebels continue the war they are causing suffering to the wives and families of the 15,000 or 20,000 prisoners we have, by prolonging their separation. They know they are playing a losing game. They never put up a fight, but continue their cowardly tactics of sniping and then running, and will continue to do so as long as they have food to eat. Harsh measures are now apparently the only remedy. The burghers have no doubt been grievously misled and a great many of them do not yet see their mistake, but their leaders were selfish and unprincipled. It is not, however, the patriotic burghers who are keeping up the war, but the rascals from every nation on earth nearly, who are taking this means of expressing their hostility to England. If they saw the prisoners we take it would open the eyes of some of those who think this an unjust war."

"I saw T. McGeehan the other day at Elandsfontein. He is working on the railroad."

"The name of the regiment has been changed and is now Lord Strathcona's Corps."

WITAKERIN.

Mr. Rosewell may now be found in his new office, over the post office.

Mr. Spens returned last week from his visit to the east, looking well and hearty.

Mr. Thomas Shea is building a hotel at Duhaime, and an application will be made for a license.

Mr. and Mrs. Adams and family, of Duhaime, left here last week for Belgium where they will spend the winter.

Mr. A. Evers conducted the service in the Methodist church on Sunday evening and preached to a good congregation.

The small quantity of snow, which fell on the 29th, has considerably improved trade. A few more inches would be a great benefit.

Mr. E. Larson is advertising the whole of his stock implements, poultry, etc., for public sale by auction, previous to his departure for the Yukon.

POPULAR LAKE.

Xmas-day passed very quietly in this settlement. The young of both sexes congregated on Poplar Lake, where they have an excellent skating rink, and enjoyed themselves to a late hour.

Another interesting feature of the day was shooting at a target for turkeys and from the extraordinary shooting done, if there were any Boers on that lake behind the target, few of them would have escaped injury, as I think that the rifles were made to shoot round corners.

Mrs. James Carnegie died last Saturday morning, and was buried Sunday in Little Mountain cemetery. Mr. Nisimith conducting the service.

BATHFORD.

Star, Dec. 22: The Indians of the Bathford agency raised 17,500 pounds of grain this year; all of first-class quality.

J. R. Minnall, who left here last summer to go to his relatives in London, has returned to Canada, and re-entered the service of the Hudson's Bay Company in their store at Pinal Lake, Man. Mr. Minnall was formerly of Edmonton.

The directors of the agricultural society met on the afternoon of the 19th inst., at the Queen's hotel and transacted a good deal of business.

The letter from Captain Barrett, with reference to immigration into this district from Texas, was discussed and it was decided to take no action in the matter. The secretary was instructed to write to Mr. Davis asking him to have a local immigration agent appointed to deal with such matters.

It was decided that the agricultural society should co-operate with the town in an endeavor to secure a railway for the district, and a committee, consisting of Messrs. H. Hickson, R. F. Chisholm, R. Jefferson, and J. J. Scott, was appointed to draw up a resolution praying the government to give Bathford a railway. These petitions will be discussed at a public meeting about the 31st of next month and will then be forwarded to Ottawa.

The date of the next year's show was then brought up. September 2nd and 3rd were finally chosen as the most suitable dates, exhibitors being allowed to show 1000 grain in 1901, and so on. The project of holding a root and vegetable show later in the year, was dropped.

The secretary read a letter from the Saskatchewan agricultural society, asking for joint action to be taken in getting the local and provincial governments to do something in reference to the epidemic which prevailed last summer among the horses of Saskatchewan.

The secretary was authorized to call for tenders for the construction of a fence to enclose the society's grounds. Meeting adjourned.

A GALLANT INCIDENT.

Montreal Star. Among the incidents of the war in South Africa, of which our colony has an good reason to feel proud as Canada has of Paardeberg, is the gallant defense of Elands river last August. A little body of Australians, there, showed something of the stuff the men of Greater Britain were made of.

Dr. Conan Doyle says the stand at Brakfontein, on the Elands river appears to have been one of the very finest deeds of arms of the war. The Australians "were only 400 in number on an exposed bank, with 2,500 Boers round them, and no help near. Six guns were trained on them, and during eleven days 1,800 shells fell within their lines."

The river was half a mile off, and every drop of water for man or beast had to come from there. Nearly all their horses and 75 of their men were killed or wounded. With extraordinary energy and ingenuity the little band dug shelters, which are said to have exceeded in depth and efficiency any which the Boers have devised."

On August 3th, Carrington tried to get to their relief and was beaten back. Neither the regulars of Carrington, nor the jamming of their only gun, nor the death of the gallant Armet, was sufficient to dishearten them," says Dr. Doyle. "They were sworn to die before the white flag should wave over them."

What might not an army of such men accomplish!

It was reported that they were gone, but on August 10th, Kitchener's advance found the sturdy little band holding their own. Fortune yielded, as fortune will when brave men set their teeth, and thousands of troops, armed with wonder and admiration, entered the lines of the redoubled and encircled, but indomitable little garrison. When the ballad-makers of Australia seek for a subject let them turn to Elands river, for there was no finer fighting in the war."

The National Review for December, commenting on this, says Dr. Doyle by no means overpraises this performance, which was even more creditable to the Australians than in this account, as we shall realize if over the facts are published. The Review then significantly remarks: "Not only did General Carrington, with over 2,500 men, fail to relieve them from the west, while Gen. Ian Hamilton, with 5,000 men, was equally helpless in the east, but the stagnation lasted within the earshot in favor of the Boers, was a place impossible to defend" was overborne by the determined bearing of the Boers, who threatened to shoot anyone of whatever rank who talked of surrendering. If only we had had a few uneducated Australians at Nicholson's Nek, Reddersburg, and elsewhere how much ignominy we should have been spared."

When the details of the war are known the world will more fully realize that the twelve thousand or so of volunteers sent by the colonies, not only furnished an object lesson as to the quality of the empire, but the character of the troops for endurance, intelligence, skill and bravery has not been excelled by any in the British army. We are proud to recall the fact that none of the disastrous mistakes or easy surrenders are to be marked against any of the colonial volunteers.

NOTICE is hereby given that application will be made to the Parliament of Canada at the next session thereof by the Supreme Court of the Independent Order of Foresters for an Act:

1. Declaring that all the assets, interests, rights, credits, effects and property, real, personal and mixed, belonging to the Supreme Court of the Independent Order of Foresters, incorporated under the provisions of Chapter 107 of R. S. O., 1877 (the Provincial Corporation) were from and after the 2nd day of May, 1899, vested in the Supreme Court of the Independent Order of Foresters, incorporated by an Act of the Parliament of Canada, Chapter 104 of the Statutes of 1899 (the Dominion Corporation);

2. Declaring the members in the said Provincial Corporation, on the said 2nd day of May, 1899, became on the said day members in the said Dominion Corporation and subject to the Constitution and Laws of the said Dominion Corporation from time to time in force;

3. For the following and other amendments to its Act of Incorporation and Amending Act—

(a) Amending Section 4 of Chapter 104 of the Statutes of 1899 as amended by Chapter 51 of the Statutes of 1900, in relation to the powers of the Order to hold real property in order to harmonize the said section with Chapter 129 of the Ontario Statutes of 1896 by providing that the value of the real property which the Supreme Court of the Independent Order of Foresters (exclusive of its branches) may hold shall not exceed in the whole any one time the annual value of twenty thousand dollars.

(b) Amending Section 6 of the said Chapter 104 of Statutes of 1899 by providing that the surplus funds of the Society may in addition to the securities specified in the said section be invested in any of the securities authorized by section 50 of the Insurance Act.

(c) Amending Sub-section 3 of Section 4 of the said Chapter 51 of the Statutes of 1899 by providing that the annual statement of the condition and affairs of the Order required by the said sub-section to be made by the Supreme Court of Foresters, shall be made in the absence of the Supreme Chief Ranger by the Past Supreme Chief Ranger or by the Supreme Vice Chief Ranger.

(d) Amending Sub-section 7 of Section 4 of the said Chapter 51 of the Statutes of 1899 (which provides that the applications and certificates used by the Order in Canada shall have compulsory effect) by substituting the words "This society is not required by law to maintain any of the securities which are required by ordinary life insurance companies," by substituting the words "The Fraternal Benefit Society," for the words "The Society."

(e) Amending Sub-section 9 of Section 4 of the said Chapter 51 of the Statutes of 1899 (which provides that the "Assessment system" shall be printed in large type at the head of every policy and every application circular and advertisement) by substituting the words "Fraternal benefit society system" for the words "Assessment System."

(f) Amending the said Chapter 51 of the Statutes of 1899, Section 10, by substituting the word "taxes" for the words "Capitation Tax," in the second and tenth lines of the said Section.

(g) Declaring the short title of the Supreme Court of the Independent Order of Foresters to be "The Independent Order of Foresters."

EAST STONY PLAIN.

A very painful task fell to the lot of the people of East Stony Plain, when they gathered together on Wednesday evening last, at the residence of Mr. Wellbourne, to bid farewell to one of their most esteemed friends and neighbors, in the person of Mr. Marshall, of Winterton, Farm. After an evening's pleasant enjoyment, the guests, who numbered over thirty, gathered in the spacious dining room and presented Mr. and Mrs. Marshall and family with two handsome leather-bound Bibles and two beautiful china cups, and an address, expressing the heartfelt sorrow of their friends in parting with one of their most worthy citizens. After a few short addresses, luncheon was served, and in the evening small hours of the morning, the guests, wending their ways to "their happy abodes," leaving with Mr. and Mrs. Marshall, their well wishes for success in their new home.

W. E. Empey has purchased the Winterton farm, lately owned by Mr. Marshall. Mr. Marshall has taken a position with Vogel & Tomlinson in Strathcona.

Rev. R. A. Bruce conducted watch night service at the residence of Mr. E. Reid, on New Year's eve.

Mr. Farmer will remove shortly to Clover Bar, where he has purchased a farm.

Threshing is nearly over. Several machines have pulled in for the season. Jan. 4, '01.

STONY PLAIN.

B. R. Empey has been re-engaged to teach for the coming term in the Stony Plain school district.

N. Sigler leaves in a few days for Waterloo Co., Ont., on a three months' visit.

J. Brox left last week for Ontario. He will be absent till spring.

Messrs. J. Schmidt and W. Umbach leave in a few days for the east.

CONJURING CREEK.

Weather for some time past has been excellent, and the farmers feel the benefit of it in the saving of cattle feed.

There was a large gathering at Mr. Heddie's farm last Wednesday in honor of Mrs. Heddie's birthday.

Messrs. Yennans and Walton are working with the new mill at the lake. Humble public school elects two new trustees next month.

Threshing operations are delayed through a break down.

Mrs. Walton and family are spending the winter at Leduc.

Rev. W. H. Nugent, of the Methodist church, and Rev. Mr. Parnell, of the Baptist church, preach here on alternate Sundays.

Christmas passed quietly, there being no Christmas tree as in former years.

Miss Pearl Kirkpatrick, of Leduc, is visiting friends at the Creek.

Mr. Len. Hasset has returned to his farm from Strathcona.

Wagons are still in use, there being no sleighing yet.

Mr. Schwartz left for Strathcona yesterday.

Your correspondent wishes to correct an error made in a recent issue regarding church outside the settlement. As Conjugating Creek is about twenty miles in length, starting from Conjugating lake, and flowing to the Saskatchewan river, and as the creek is settled all along there are now two post offices namely, Calmar and Conjugating Creek. The part adjacent to Conjugating Creek post office is called Conjugating Creek settlement. The church in question is outside the above settlement, not outside of all settlement on Conjugating Creek, as the item seemed to read; and looked a little misleading to some of your Creek subscribers.

THE TWENTIETH CENTURY FARMER.

The twentieth century number of the Farmer's Advocate appropriately begins with a study in human progress, based on the history of the 19th and 20th centuries, followed by contributions from many of the brightest minds on the continent. "Captain Eli's Best Ear" a story by Frank R. Stockton, and as many more excellent features, which will be read with delight and profit in every farm home. The chief home department engraving is entitled "The End of the Skein," a rare and touching work of art. One cannot be surprised at the strong hold the Farmer's Advocate has upon the people everywhere. Apart from its incomparable strength in regular issues as an agricultural paper, the Christmas number goes to every subscriber without extra charge, while the readers of other periodicals are charged forty or fifty cents extra for holiday issues. We congratulate the Farmer's Advocate on its success.
